

New York.—Baroness Annie de Taube, 80, relative of Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, dropped dead in street.

Boston, Mass.—Eva Tanguay arrested for reckless auto driving at Whately, Mass.; released on bail.

New York.—Chas. R. Heike, convicted secretary of the sugar trust, whom Taft commuted, died here.

New York.—Hundred thousand conductors and trainmen of Eastern lines have voted overwhelmingly to strike if called out by their leaders.

Washington.—After being barred from Fourth of July pageant, Hearst gave a little sour-grapes Mutt and Jeff parade of his own.

Paris.—Believed here that Socialists have organized nation-wide spirit of revolt in the army.

Douglas, Ga.—Andy Solomon dead, Ran Solomon, his brother, fatally wounded, as result of battle between Solomon trainrobbers and Sheriff Gillis' posse in swamp near Kirkland.

Marathon, Tex.—Gen. Luis Terrazas, Rockefeller of Mexico, offered $10,000 to anyone who will get him out of that country.

Columbus, O.—Harry Knight and Milton McCallis killed when rear wheel came off auto. Race won by Ralph Mulford in Mason.

Memphis.—I. C. switch train toppled off bridge at Darnell, Miss. Three men drowned.

London.—Dr. Goldschmidt, German inventor, says he has established communication between Beustadt-am-Reubenberger, Germany, and Tuckerton, N. J., by radio transmission.

Greenwich, Conn.—Henry R. Guggenheimer and bride, who was Janet Beecher, actress, spent first day of honeymoon here. Mrs. Guggenheimer going back on stage in fall.

Youngstown, O.—Taxicab driver rescued Leona Gushko of Leetonia, who was kidnapped Thursday by three men who demanded ransom of $10,000.

Philadelphia.—Five members of picnic party killed when Philadelphia & Reading train crashed into farm wagon.

Rockford, Ill.—Thos. Raidy, overcome by heat. Fell. Fractured skull. Dead.

SWEEPING PROBE OF LOBBIES WILL BE MADE

Washington, D. C., July 5.—The most sweeping investigation in the history of the House of Representatives will be made into the charge that lobbies, especially that of the National Association of Manufacturers, improperly influenced legislation and made and unmade legislators as the N. A. M. pleased.

This became sure today when the House Rules Committee unanimously reported an inquiry resolution, creating a committee of seven with unlimited power, an unlimited expense account, authority to employ outside counsel and to get to the bottom of all the charges recently made.

The investigation is to be entirely independent of the Senate lobby inquiry now in progress.

The Overman Senate Committee today took up the papers in the case of Congressman Gardner of New Jersey.

These charges are contained in a letter written by Col. Mulhall, the confessed lobbyist and strikebreaker, to John Kirby, Jr., then president of the N. A. M.

The charges are:

That Gardner for a time strenuously fought for the adoption by the House of his eight-hour bill limiting the day's work of government employes and all work for the government by contract to eight hours.

But that Gardner, through the persuasions of the N. A. M. lobby, was induced to pigeonhole the eight-hour bill for two years.

And that he only reported the bill when Congressmen Hughes of New Jersey and Rainey of Illinois openly threatened to denounce him on the floor of the House.